BY STEPHANIE ALLMON MERRY

The coronavirus may have us down, but it's not going to interfere with the most important eating holiday of the year: Thanksgiving. On November 26, some Fort Worth restaurants are hosting feasts for dining-in, some offering meals to go, and some are doing both.

Here's our list of restaurants doing Thanksgiving spreads, with all the important and accurate up-to-date details which we'll continue to update until the day arrives:

Eatzi's Market & Bakery

The gourmet takeaway spot, with locations in Fort Worth and Grapevine, has many Thanksgiving offerings to be ordered online. They include entrees of Rosewood Ranch Smoked Wagyu Prime Rib Roast (serves 6-8, $250), Cranberry Chipotle Glazed or Oven Roasted Turkey Breast (serves 3-4, $26-$27), Orange Bourbon Vanilla Glazed Ham (serves 3-4, $29), or, for the drumstick fans, a Chipotle Bacon Glazed Smoked Turkey Leg (serves 2, $15). Sides, stuffings, and sauces ($10-$20) include Bacon Balsamic Brussels Sprouts, Smashed Sweet Potatoes, Cauliflower Gruyere Gratin, and more. Finish with a dessert ranging from traditional pumpkin pie ($19) to Cranberry White Chocolate Cheesecake ($38). Order ahead online here; Eatzi's will be closed Thanksgiving Day.
