

GUIDE TO THANKSGIVING DINNER IN DALLAS: WHERE TO TAKE OUT OR DINE IN

NOVEMBER 2020

The most delicious time of the year is here and if you haven't started thinking about what in the world you're going to make for Thanksgiving, don't panic!

We have 10 suggestions for takeout and a list of local spots open for dine-in! And you'll find both the traditional turkey to some of the best lobster rolls in town!

Eatzi's Market & Bakery

One of Dallas' most prominent markets and bakeries with chef crafted food selections has something special coming for Thanksgiving! The menu is crazy long filled with all sorts of appetizing dishes from salads, dips, entrees, sides, stuffings, desserts and even a whole section of bread that's calling our name!

The options feed from 2 all the way up to 20 and you can customize your cart to your perfect Thanksgiving meal inspo that you've seen on Pinterest! And of course we are drooling over the desserts section, especially a Cranberry White Chocolate Cheesecake that is a fun alternative to pumpkin pie!
