

RESTAURANTS PROVIDE COLORFUL EASTER OPTIONS

Will the high cost of eggs affect the tradition of Easter brunch on Sunday, April 9? Data seems to indicate that the impact will be minimal. While Dallas residents are dying to dine, they are less likely to be dyeing eggs for decorations and egg hunts. Searching for Easter dining is much easier than seeking the coveted Easter bounty.

Eatzi's Market & Bakery is making Easter and Passover feasts easy this year with a bundle of new sweets and familiar favorites for brunch and dinner include berry compote challah French toast, a variety of quiches, wild mushroom risotto, potato kugel, berry and goat cheese baby kale salad, matzo ball soup, grilled branzino, pineapple chipotle glazed ham, lamb chops with mint chimichurri, dill niçoise vegetables and apricot glazed Cornish hens.
