Iran into a guy recently who proudly stated that he “didn’t go in for all of the commercial holidays.” His wife rolled her eyes as she sadly confirmed that this was in fact true. With Valentine’s Day looming large, I wonder how that approach is really going for him.

In all seriousness, expectations are high and the clock is ticking. It doesn’t matter what your significant other tells you, Valentine’s Day matters. And the planning behind a good date night meal still impresses. Here are the Best Fort Worth Restaurants For Valentine’s Day:

Eatzi’s Market & Bakery

Perfect for DIY couples who love romance at home, Eatzi’s Market & Bakery has dreamed up a takeout Valentine’s Day menu full of sweet treats and luxurious eats for two. Choose from Eatzi’s special prix-fixe options (which will be available Monday, February 13 and Tuesday, February 14) or build your own date night menu. You can go surf and turf with lobster tail and crab cakes, or choose the Rosewood Ranch espresso and cocoa-rubbed wagyu sirloin.

All the prix-fix meals come with green and white asparagus with balsamic glaze, berry panzanella salad, a pint of lobster bisque, wild mushroom risotto, heart-shaped pot de crème and a two-pack of Linzer almond and raspberry heart cookies.
