

PLENTY OF OPTIONS FOR THANKSGIVING FEASTING

NOVEMBER 17, 2023
BY DAVID MULLEN

While the White House Thanksgiving pardon of two turkeys has been a 75-year tradition first started by President Harry S. Truman, there is no need for Dallas eaters to ask for forgiveness whether overindulging at home or at a restaurant on Thursday, Nov. 23. Many area businesses are more than happy to aid and abet with a lavish Thanksgiving feast. Some are offering unique dishes and desserts that may start a new tradition.

Eatzi's Market & Bakery

With three locations, Eatzi's Market & Bakery has a full menu of favorites, with all the meats, sides and pies to feed the whole family.