BY MARLENYS GUZMÁN CASTAÑOS

There's no shame in skipping the kitchen this year, especially when North Texas chefs have already done the heavy lifting (and roasting). From smoked brisket and spiced pies to seafood feasts and Bundt cakes, local eateries are serving holiday comfort in every form imaginable.

Whether the goal is to impress guests, dodge the dishes or simply spend more time on the couch, these to-go feasts make it easy to stay full, festive and blissfully stress-free.

Eatzi's Market & Bakery

Where: 5967 W. Parker Rd, Plano (and more locations)

Hosting gets a whole lot easier with Eatzi's ready-to-serve holiday spread featuring appetizers, entrées, sides and desserts that take the prep out of the party. This year's menu brings back beloved classics alongside new seasonal stars like honey butter brussels sprouts and cherry & dried apple salad. It's the ultimate way to impress guests without ever turning on the oven.
